Are you at the age when...

You talk to yourself...because there are times when you need expert advice.

'In Style'...are the clothes that fit.

You don't need anger management...you just need people to stop peeing you off.

Your people skills are just fine...it's your tolerance for idiots that needs work.

The biggest lie you tell yourself is..."I don't need to write that down I'll remember it".

'On time'...is when you get there.

It would be wonderful if you could put yourself in the dryer for twenty minutes then come out wrinkle-free and two sizes smaller.

Lately you've noticed that people your age are so much older than you.

Growing old should have taken longer.

Ageing has slowed you down but hasn't shut you up.

You still haven't learned to 'act your age' and hope you never will.

'One for the road' means peeing before you leave the house.

A vicar was astonished to hear one of the Sunday School children say that a person must be brave to go to Church so he asked him "what do you mean by brave?"

"Well," the little boy said, "I heard my uncle tell my aunt last week there was a canon in the pulpit, the choir murdered the last hymn, and the organist drowned the choir."

How we blocked people in the 1980s

Who says men don't remember!

A COUPLE were Christmas shopping. The shopping centre was packed and as the wife walked around she was surprised to discover that her husband was nowhere to be seen.

She was quite upset because they had a lot to do and hence, she became so worried that she called him on her mobile phone to ask him where he was.

In a quiet voice he said: "Do you remember the jewellers we went into about five years ago, where you fell in love with that diamond necklace that we couldn't afford, and I told you that I would get it for you one day?"

The wife choked up and started to cry and said: "Yes, I do remember that shop."

He replied: "Well, I'm in the pub next door!"

Nature's Calendar for Easter

In the past, plants were more important for people in charting the passing year than they are now. Many flowers have names that link their flowering time to that of the church calendar with several associated with Eastertide.

Greater stitchwort (Stellaria holostea) was also known as Easter Bell and Good Friday Grass is still a commonly used name for Field Wood-rush (Luzula campestris). Good Friday Grass is a frequent component of churchyard grassland, particularly in places with either acid or lime-rich soils. It's brush-like flowers are quite subtle but always appear in time for Easter. Another name for it is Sweep's Broom due to the shape of the flowers.

Another small but beautiful plant to look out for at this time of year is Wood Sorrel (Oxalis acetosella) which has several names including Cuckoo's Bread and Cheese, Granny's Sour Grass and Alleluia as its delicate white flowers appear between Easter and Whitsun, and its trefoil, shamrock-shaped leaves bring associations with the Holy Trinity.

Pasqueflower (Pulsatilla vulgaris) also blooms at Easter time, the name Pasque meaning 'of Easter'. It is now rare in the wild, found in a few places where there is ancient, undisturbed grassland on limestone. It is often associated with old earthworks such as barrows, hillforts and boundary banks and there was a legend that it grew where the blood of Danes or Romans had been spilt. *

It's not only flowers that chart the passing months and the Christian calendar. St Mark's Fly (Bibio marci) is a long, black, shiny fly which hatches around St Mark's Day, April 25th. Large numbers of flies can be found in woodland edges, hedgerows and fields often mating in mid-air giving them the alternate name of Love Bug! They fly rather aimlessly with dangling legs, usually surviving as adults for about one week and getting eaten in large numbers, providing a ready food source. They are also an important pollinator of early flowering trees such as many fruit trees.

As you watch the spring unfurling, spare a thought for our ancestors who used nature as a calendar and lived much closer to a profusion of plants and animals than we do now. Perhaps this could be an inspiration to get involved in nature recovery in our much-depleted land.

Stop to Move Forward

The world is a busy place. Whether it's the speed of news flying at you, the number of things you have to fit into 24 hours (whether you have kids to negotiate or not!) or just the way everyone needs something now., it's exhausting.

Our lives at church can be no different and it can be hard to find the time, or the energy to stop and think about anything, let alone our 'calling'. We all have one. Even serving coffee is one.

This Easter we're not only trying to slow down and stop to remember God's amazing love for us but Bishop Michael is also offering us an amazing opportunity to slow down, take stock and join in the adventure, the journey, the strategy of the diocese – to grow our faith and love our communities 'following Christ in the footsteps of St Chad'. For many this may feel like 'yet one more thing' to 'do' or find time for – and that would be an understandable response. In reality however this isn't what the strategy is – it's an amazing opportunity for us to stand together and move forward for a common purpose.

It's one of those 'we're stronger together' moments.

We won't all move forward in the same way – we're all different and unique and can bring amazing talents, opinions and gifts to the diocese.

For some of us this is totally overwhelming – 'I don't have anything special to offer', 'I'm too tired to think about this' or 'I have too much to do'. This is where Chad Foundations can help. Chad Foundations can offer the chance to slow down and have chance to actually think about what we think! To ask ourselves what we believe and why. Chad Foundations can give you the space to reflect on what you are good at, what you are passionate about and maybe how you can use these things to help God and others.

It might sound crazy to take on a nine-month course to find space; and it is a commitment. You will need to find time, and for some that might mean stopping something you currently do, or stepping back from a church position for a little bit. Sometimes though, we have to stop to move forward.

We would love to see you at Chad Foundations. The next course starts in September and applications are open now. If you want to know more, please check out www.lichfield.anglican.org/chad-foundations

APRIL BULLETIN

Staffordshire Moorlands District Council will cease to exist by April 2028 as part of the Government's plans to reorganise local government.

Last December the Government published the English Devolution White Paper which set out its plans to widen and deepen devolution across England. It also outlined how the Government will reform local government, as the foundation for devolution.

Devolution is the transfer of functions and powers to regions governed by Strategic Authorities (Combined Authorities) to ensure that the whole of England benefits. Staffordshire has not taken part in the devolution process so far.

Devolution and local government reorganisation are separate issues but are closely linked. In February, the Minister of State wrote to the Leaders of Staffordshire County Council, all district and borough councils and Stoke-on-Trent City Council formally inviting them to develop a proposal for local government reorganisation for the area.

Staffordshire County Councillors have backed draft proposals for a new unitary authority to oversee services for residents.

The county's eight district and borough councils, which currently provide services such as bin collections, emergency housing, planning and leisure facilities, are all facing the axe as part of national government plans to reorganise the local authority system.

Stoke-on-Trent City Council has proposed the creation of a North Staffordshire authority, covering Newcastle Borough and Staffordshire Moorlands District alongside Stoke-on Trent.

As a continuation of handing more power back to residents there is a controversial proposal in the Moorlands to give Parish Councils more local powers by creating village Mayors.

Powers of a Village Mayor would include granting planning for housing, new road surfacing, financial benefits for chosen residents, compulsory discounts in local supermarkets to name just a few.

There would have to be a village referendum held, to choose a Mayor, or it could be worked on a yearly basis on residents' surnames in alphabetical order.

PODIUM PILATES

Joseph Pilates was a German gymnast, bodybuilder and professional boxer. His focus on anatomy, breath control and core postural muscles to keep the body balanced and support the spine became the basis of the Pilates method.

He was placed in an internment camp on the Isle of Wight during the First World War where he used his expertise to rehabilitate seriously injured veterans. After the war, he worked with Ballet dancers in New York, physical training specialists and even trained police officers using his techniques.

Approximately 12 million people around the world now practice Pilates to improve their balance, flexibility, co-ordination and strength.

Pilates exercises can be tailored to a spectrum of fitness goals, ages and abilities, resulting in an accessible form of exercise that has the potential to benefit many people in their everyday lives.

Louise Boardman is a local Pilates teacher from Butterton and is based at Peak Fitness Gym, Waterhouses. She offers additional classes in the local area to suit all abilities and believes that Pilates can help make most people feel better and stronger.

Louise offers several different Pilates lessons including Chair Pilates, Mat Pilates and Intense Pilates.

- * Chair Pilates is a great way to exercise without getting up and down off the floor. It's good for building arm and leg strength, flexibility and joint mobility. The class is low impact and could be useful if you have arthritis, back pain or poor balance.
- * Mat Pilates is a strengthening and lengthening form of exercise that focuses on your core muscles while also training the arms and legs. The results include improved posture, better coordination, stress management and injury prevention. All of the exercises in this class can be modified to decrease or increase the level of challenge.
- * Intense Pilates is also mat-based; however, it often includes weights and other equipment to increase the difficulty and also increase the challenge.
- * Private tuition 1:1 or small group sessions are also available with Louise if you have a specific issue or rehabilitation requirement.

If you're interested in trying Pilates, contact Louise via 07956 675683 for more information and to discuss which class best suits you. Alternatively, please visit www.podiumpilates.com to see the current class timetable and available locations.

Potholes - lease do report them

If you have identified an issue on a public road, please report it to the appropriate authority using the links below. The more people that report an issue, the sooner it is likely to be resolved. Details on the Parish Council pages of the Alstonefield village website.

Potholes and other road defects can be reported online on the Staffordshire County Council website at <https://formshighways.staffordshire.gov.uk/homepage/9/report-a-pothole-or-road-condition>. Message from the Community Bus Shelter

Eric says the Butterson Bus Shelter has opened again for the book and bric-a-brac fund raising in time for the Mothers' Day weekend.

Lots of people have promised us donations of books and 'stuff' so come and view our new and exciting range. We will need your surplus books and stuff as well! We have very little held over from last year. If you are planning a cull of your belongings, do bear the Bus Shelter in mind before you dispose of it. We will also have a container for recycling spectacles. But please remember, we do ask for donated items to be clean and in good condition to maintain the high standard we aim for. Do get in touch if you have something to donate, and would like to discuss it: our email is buttertonbusshelter@gmail.com or phone 01538-304408. We'll be happy to chat.

A Big Thank You to the Community Magazine for providing Elkstones village with a grant last October, which has enabled us to purchase 25 yards of new fast-growing hedging plants for the village green. Now that Spring is in the air, these have now been planted out along the previous line of the old boundary fencing, which had rotted away. Thank you also to Roger Miller, who undertook to do the work of preparing the ground and planting 175 bare stem privets, which should eventually grow to the height of the hedge which runs along the other end of the green. During the digging, Roger managed to uncover the old stone trough which used to house the village water tap before mains water came to the village in 1963. We hope to keep the trough exposed as a feature now, maybe to house some colourful plants.

All meetings are held at Ilam School at 7pm

Ilam School

With the sunshine finally returning, and signs of Spring breaking through, we have been making the most of the beautiful weather here at Ilam Primary School. It's been wonderful to spend more time outside again!

Earlier this month, our Key Stage 2 children had a wonderful day out at the Halle Orchestra in Manchester. With a workshop beforehand learning a song to perform, the children all ventured off for this amazing opportunity. With the sights of the city to explore, as well as the immersive experience of a full orchestra, we've no doubt that the children will remember this day for many years to come.

We have also held our annual World Book Day in school, which as always, did not disappoint! With a staff theme of the Hungry Caterpillar, our costumes filled the school with joy and colour! Of course, the children completely blew us away with their amazing creativity and choices! Making a potato book character and sharing our favourite books, we had the most amazing day celebrating literature. Miss Lisa also treated us to a fantastic themed lunch, a successful day all round! We followed this with our Scholastic Book Fair which we held in school over the following week. The children loved seeing what books were sent to us this year and enjoyed spending their book tokens and prize vouchers at the fair.

We also recently held our first Spelling Bee tournament in school as part of The Moorlands Primary Federation group of schools. The children all worked very hard to learn their spellings and amazed us with their determination and resilience in learning. The winners from each year group will compete again later this year to see who will win in each age group category across all of the schools! Good luck Ilam!

As always, we've thoroughly enjoyed our sporting events over the past month. With our younger children venturing off to compete in a fundamental skills event, and our older children showcasing their netball skills, the children loved sharing their much loved sports with children from other local small schools. As the weather continues to improve, we look forward to more of these events over the forthcoming months.

Finally, we took a moment last week to remember Isabella, a beautiful little girl who we sadly lost 20 years ago in the Thai Tsunami. To raise funds for Red Nose Day and The Isabella Peatfield Memorial Fund which supports Thai orphanages, we held a brunch enjoying freshly baked goods prepared by the children, as well as a Miss Lisa buffet with our family and friends. We wore pink and red, and planted flowers around Isabella's monument. It's a truly wonderful thing that even all these years on, Isabella continues to fill our school with love, warmth and joy. She will always hold a special place in our hearts here at Ilam school.

With the easter break on the horizon, we still have lots more to pack in before we conclude the half term. With Easter bingo, our little play and Break the Rules Day to come, we look forward to sharing our adventures with you in the next edition.

In the meantime, if you'd like to visit our wonderful school, please do contact me.
